

AldrichBodiceBlock01_1

The image shows a technical drawing of two pattern pieces, labeled 'A' and '2', for a bodice. The pieces are outlined in black on a white background. The piece labeled 'A' is a trapezoidal shape with a pointed top and a wider base. The piece labeled '2' is a curved, hook-like shape. The drawing is framed by a grid of lines, with decorative corner elements in the top-left, top-right, and bottom-right corners. Each of these corner elements consists of a grid of squares with diagonal lines and a small scissors icon indicating a cut line. On the left side, there are partial views of other pattern pieces: a pointed shape at the top and a curved shape below it.
